

SPARTAN

SP-ST-8

Each channel is powered by an independent transformer and uses eight optically isolated signal amplifiers to boost the DMX output. The amplification function allows for extending the connection beyond the standard DMX512 length. If additional distance is needed, multiple signal amplifiers can be used on the same connection. Each connection point can be independently connected, supporting up to 32 fixtures. The design is lightweight and robust, reducing the likelihood of recurring issues.